

Learning more about the Siberian Husky

THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN SIBERIAN HUSKY CLUB, INC.

We believe that responsible ownership is the key to the enjoyment and welfare of any pet. Our breed has many endearing behavioral traits. These same traits turn into problems for the owner who does not understand why the pet reacts as it does to conditions around it. Knowledge, prior to ownership, is essential for relationships which will endure. Often, the alternative is abandonment and suffering.

ABOUT CLUB MEETINGS AND PUBLICATIONS

The Rocky Mountain Siberian Husky Club (RMSHC) meets in the Denver Metro area on the first Tuesday of each month. Normally, we start our meetings at 7:00 PM. The business meeting is followed by light refreshments and a program. Visitors and guests are always welcome to attend. We publish a monthly newsletter, Husky Talk, that is available to non-members by subscription for $10.00 annually. Printing and mailing of Husky Talk occurs in the week preceding a meeting, so that recipients are notified of the meeting location and program. Information regarding club activities is available from any club officer.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THE RMSHC

The RMSHC is a club where anyone may learn more about the Siberian breed and share in various Club activities, whether it be showing, sledding, companion or pet dogs. Programs provide information about nutrition, simple genetics, inherited diseases, care and grooming, conformation, obedience and racing. Among our activities are a licensed specialty show, yearly eye examination clinic, educational demonstrations, potluck dinners and social gatherings. The RMSHC follows the guidelines and objectives of our parent club, the Siberian Husky Club of America (SHCA), a member of the American Kennel Club (AKC).

A referral by a member of the Rocky Mountain Siberian Husky Club (RMSHC) does not imply an endorsement of a particular breeder or owner. RMSHC encourages all prospective owners of a Siberian Husky to become familiar with our breed and its characteristics, the breed standard, and possible hereditary defects before contacting a breeder.
